

HED Spotlight – NAVAJO TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY

“IT BEGINS FROM WITHIN”

Q: Why is the realm of dual credit important to you?

A: Our dual credit system offers students diverse opportunities to excel in their education and future careers. It nurtures growth and enables success, guiding students towards their desired destinations. This platform provides a head start for high school students, preparing them for transitioning into higher education and enabling informed decisions that shape their future trajectories.

Q: As a dual-credit coordinator, how do you see value in the EEDW project?

A: NTU's cutting-edge digital infrastructure enhances instructional practices and student learning experiences. The EEDW project promotes collaboration between schools, enhancing dual credit programs and benefiting future students.

Q: In looking at dual credit at Navajo Technical University, what are some ways you could see IT pathways grow in enrollment over the next three years?

A: Our dual credit program is continually enhanced to align with students' unique educational and career aspirations, boosting enrollment and fostering confidence. This approach increases student engagement, success, and a more fulfilling educational experience.
